TOMB of HORRORS

ILLUSTRATION BOOKLET

This illustration section is specially designed for use with the module. It contains 32 illustrations showing various features of the Tomb, and should be used by Dungeon Masters to show appropriate views to the players as they adventure. Each illustration within this section has a number which corresponds to the rooms and locations on the master map (note that not all locations are shown and that some appear more than once). The descriptive copy within the booklet indicates when appropriate illustrations should be shown. The illustration on this page carries no number and can be shown as the adventure commences and the players begin their search for the entrance.

The DM may carefully bend the staples outward and remove this section from the booklet. The staples should be bent back once the pages are removed.

The pages can be folded down so that only the appropriate illustration is shown to the players. The DM may place a finger or thumb over the number of each picture to avoid giving any clues (either to the number of the room or its location) to the players.
